

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

A Joint Meeting of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland and the Société Asiatique will be held in London on September 3-6, 1919. This note serves as a general advertisement to all members of the American Oriental Society inviting them to attend, and it is hoped that the President of the Society can ensure the attendance of some delegates. Anyone planning to attend can obtain later and fuller information by communicating with Prof. Charles R. Lanman, 9 Farrar St., Cambridge, Mass.

PERSONALIA

PROF. WM. H. WORRELL, Director of the American School in Jerusalem, expects to start for his post on July 19, taking boat to England. His Associate, PROF. A. T. CLAY, will sail on July 12. In London they will take up negotiations with the British School of Archaeology in Jerusalem looking towards close co-operation, and they will confer in Paris with the French societies and scholars interested in oriental research. After that they will proceed, as rapidly as political conditions allow, to Jerusalem.

PROF. A. CARNOY, Professor at the University of Louvain and at the University of California (formerly at the University of Pennsylvania), has returned for the time being to Louvain, where his address is 9 Rue des Joyeuses Entrées.

MR. LEON DOMINIAN has been assigned to duty at the Peace Conference in Paris. His address is care of the American Commission to Negotiate Peace, Hotel Crillon, Paris.